San Carlos Grade Schools Hold Christmas Programs

"Christmas in Old England," staged by seventh and eighth grade classes, was given two performances at Central School in San Carlos Tuesday.

Produced by the elective classes of the two junior high grades, the Glee Club sang, directed by Norman Cory; the school orchestra, also directed by Cory, played; the 'Teen-Age Theater offered the play while members of the stage craft class made all the sets and props. Mrs. Helen Marks conducts the stage crafts group while Caroline Fisher is in charge of the dramatics class.

An afternoon performance was given to all sixth, seventh and eighth grade students of the district and last night the performance was repeated for some 200 parents.

Today, continuing a three-day Christmas program, group assemblies were held beginning at 9 o'clock with the morning kindergarten and the three classes of the first grade singing to one another. At 10 o'clock the third and fourth grades met for Christmas carols and three skits portraying "The Night Before Christmas," the story of how "The Little Town of Bethlehem" was written and sung, and "Christmas in Mexico" complete with knocking down the traditional Mexican pinatas filled with candies and nuts.

Grades five and six performed for one another at an 11 o'clock program, giving "The Night before Christmas" in song, the processional, "Adeste Fidelis," a play, "Santa Has the Measles," a skit portraying "Christmas in Many Lands," and a verse speaking offering.

Youngsters gathered informally about the stage centered with a lighted Christmas tree for each program, Miss Ruth Melendy, superintendent, said.

During the afternoon the three second grade classes entertained one another with a song fest. Caroling in the halls is a part of the annual Yuletide observance at Central School while at White Oaks and Arundel schools, the Christmas singing will take place out of doors.

White Oaks pupils will sing around the flagpole at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and Arundel School pupils will gather around their own flagpole to sing the traditional Christmas songs at the same time.

There will be no school Friday because of a teachers' institute.

Santa Claus In Spotlight On Streets

Santa Claus took the spotlight in Redwood City this week, greeting hundreds of children as he traveled up and down streets in his mechanized "Santa Claus Music Box."

Other children greeted Old St. Nick as he parked for an hour on Broadway. The youngsters told what they wanted the jolly big fellow to bring them on Christmas Eve. They were informed that if they would be good he would be around.

The civic center Nativity Scene also attracted attention. The flag pole lights will be on during the Yule Season.

The "Santa Claus Music Box" will parade around the city each night, and will park for an hour each night in the downtown section, between 8 and 9 o'clock.

Santa's mechanized sleigh is a decorated trailer pulled by a jeep. The trailer was decorated by the Redwood City Retailers.

Meantime, in San Carlos, San Carlos Ave. and "Santa Claus Lane" shared the spotlight as final preparations for the arrival of St. Nick were being made.

The city's main street, hung with candy canes, was officially lighted Sunday night at ceremonies attended by city officials and spectators.

The brightly-colored strip now will offer a sure path for Santa Claus when he guides his reindeer over the city on Christmas Eve, city officials said.

Meantime in the city's residential area, Kris Kringle was on hand when Mayor Edward R. Burton opened Santa Claus Lane.

The area, located between Cordilleras and Brittan Aves. on Greenwood Ave., was opened when Mayor Burton cut a ribbon as hundreds looked on.

Santa Claus, arranged for by Bill Jackson, was on hand to greet the wee folk, and visited homes in the 2100 block of Greenwood to become familiar with homes he'll visit later on during the coming holidays.

Santa Claus, who wandered up and down his own special street Sunday handing out candy to all youngsters and listening to their requests, takes up his station at Bildean's Variety Store each Saturday morning from 10 to 12 and Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 from now until Christmas.

For any children unable to see him through illness or handicaps of any kind, Santa will try to call on them personally if contacted through Dean McHan at LY 3-9391.

Tomorrow the 75 Club will sponsor a complete tour of San Carlos for Santa Claus.

6 Months in Jail In Attack Case

Ray Strawn, 20-year-old Skippers Park resident and Millbrae laborer, late Monday was sentenced to six months in the county jail and to three years probation for the rape of a 17-year-old La Honda girl.

Strawn pleaded guilty to the statutory rape charge two weeks ago and was sentenced by Superior Judge Aylett R. Cotton.

The offence occurred on Oct. 31 at Skippers Park, near Woodside, after Strawn had met the girl in La Honda and was taking her home.

Three South County Districts Claim Coast Tries to 'Steal' Area

Three South San Mateo County School Districts charged Tuesday that the Coastside Union Elementary School Dist. was attempting to grab off territory from their districts simply to improve its financial status at the expense of the others.

"We feel it's just a matter of stealing some assessed valuation from our district," Redwood City Supt. of Schools Andrew Spinas declared, adding:

"I don't mean that literally, of course."

The charges were made before the board of supervisors at a heated session which was continued until next Tuesday without decision.

Involved in the issue is property lying along Skyline Blvd. and now part of three school districts, the Redwood City, Portola and Greersburg Elementary School Districts.

No children, or at the most one child, lives in the area.

The Coastside Union Elementary School Dist., of which Supervisor Alvin S. Hatch is a trustee, is seeking to annex the area, claiming that if any future development occurs there, the children will necessarily have to attend schools of the Half Moon Bay Dist.

The proposal met with opposition from not only the three school districts in which the property lies, but from Miss Pansy Jewett Abbott, county superintendent of schools.

Miss Abbott pointed out that all of the school districts concerned already have reached their legal limits of indebtedness, and that if parts of the assessed valuations of the three districts were cut off, the districts would have to raise the money elsewhere or cut services.

The Portola School Dist.'s position was voiced by one of its trustees, John Duzanica.

"They are trying to take away one-third of our district without consulting our district's trustees," Duzanica declared. "It's impossible for us to give up one-third of our district."

Duzanica's protest was supported by another Portola trustee, Charles Strawn.

Miss Abbott interjected after Duzanica's protest:

"They're trying to take something from the three districts to enlarge the Coastside."

Spinas said that the land in the Redwood City School Dist. belongs mostly to the San Francisco water system, and probably never will be used to build homes. If any development occurs, he declared, the residents will look to the Bay side for services, including education.

At this point the issue was raised as to whether Supervisor Hatch legally could act as a member of the board of supervisors, since he was a trustee of the Coastside Dist.

Asst. Dist. Atty. John Bruning ruled that the two posts are not incompatible, but Hatch announced that he would refrain from voting. Supervisor Edward R. McDonald pointed out that by parliamentary procedure a supervisor could not refrain from voting while in the room, so Hatch later left when the continuance until next week was put to a vote.

Three members of the Greersburg School Board arose to protest. Edgar L. Norris stated that the proposal would take away about one-third of his district's physical extent. The others were King Harris and William W. Mein Jr.

George Keyston, chairman of the school committee of the Kings Mountain, Sky-L'onda Improvement Assn., represented the proponents of the move to annex parts of the other districts to the Coastside District.

Attempt to Dodge Cops Ends in Crash

A 25-year-old San Jose man was charged with reckless driving and failing to use headlights early Tuesday after he crashed into a dead-end barrier in an effor to escape San Carlos police.

Facing the charges was Roy B. Dundas, who smashed through a heavy barrier at the south end of Walnut St. about 3 a.m., police said.

Neither Dundas nor his companion, Nancy (Peggy) Blair, who gave her address as 2100 Stockbridge Ave., was injured in the crackup, police stated.

Chief damage, according to the officers' report, was to flower pots and the fence on the property owned by Cesare Restani, San Carlos heather grower.

Restani today placed his loss at $200 worth of flower pots and stands. The fence was also heavily damaged as the car sped through, according to police.

Officers first spotted the car as it was headed south on El Camino Real without headlights. After police took up pursuit, Dundas attempted to elude them by turning off at Cherry St., heading west until he turned south on Walnut St.

Lions Launch 'Toy Turnout'

The Peninsula's part in a Christmas "toy turnout campaign" by Lions International was launched this week when Milton Athey, zone chairman for this area, appointed B. A. Bills as Redwood City chairman.

New or well mended toys will be picked up at the homes of contributors and taken to local fire stations where they will be turned over to charitable agencies, teachers, ministers and others who can get them to underprivileged children in time for Christmas.

Nationally the program is being plugged over the CBS network, with a goal of 30,000,000 toys. Details will be given on the Fred Beck program daily.

Persons who will contribute a toy—any make, model, style or size—are asked to call Bills at EM 8-0415, or any member of the local Lions Club.

Bills said today it is not necessary for the gift toy to be wrapped, but that "if doners will wrap them, it will speed delivery and be of great help." He asked that donations be made by Dec. 18 so that distribution could be completed before Christmas.

He emphasized that toys collected locally will be redistributed in the same area.

"Each will be delivered to the right child on or before Christmas morning," Bills said. "The right child will be found through agencies, and individuals whose work keeps them in touch with the unfortunate and underprivileged," he added.

SC Fire Chief Gives Safety Tips

Chief Lyle Clark of the San Carlos Fire Dept., today issued some suggestions for fire prevention during the holidays ahead.

Keep elaborate decorations away from fireplaces, the chief cautioned. "Don't put a lot of fancy decorations on the mantel and then start a big fire in the fireplace," he said.

Christmas trees should be cut on about a 45 degree angle, Chief Clark advised, and fastened into buckets of wet sand. By adding water to the sand each day, the trees may be kept green longer than when simply placed on stands.

The use of cotton around a tree is poor policy and if electric trains are used to circle a tree, they should not be operated.

Man Falls From Roof Of House in MP, Hurt

A South San Francisco man was in Palo Alto Hospital this week with serious injuries suffered when he fell from the roof of a house in Menlo Park.

Top awards for community Christmas tree posters were: Marlene Bollhofer, first; Harold Carmicia, second, and Jerry D. Haney, third. Santa party poster winners were Nancy Sears, first; George Pettit, second, and Carole Miller, third.

Four of the top six winners are pupils in the Sixth Grade under Mrs. Dorothy Newton.

The posters commemorated the tree decorating ceremonies which are scheduled for this Friday at the Belmont Civic Center, and the Santa Claus theater party planned for Dec. 21.

Judges were Mrs. Samuel Franks, chairman; Mrs. George Hulstede, Mrs. W. M. Whipple, and Mrs. Chris Hodgson.

Arrangements are being made to exhibit the posters in shops throughout Belmont, and a program bulletin for the community Christmas festivities is being distributed this week by neighborhood committees.

The poster contests were completed through the cooperation of the Belmont Woman's Club's art section and the Belmont Recreation Commission.

Bridegroom Sentenced In Robbery

A 20-year-old bridegroom who on Labor Day stuck up the Sunshine Market in Menlo Park, was sentenced this week to be committed to the California Youth Authority.

The sentence was imposed by Superior Judge A. R. Cotton after William Mickens of Downey pleaded guilty to a charge of robbery.

Mickens previously had pleaded not guilty, but changed the plea Monday after his attorney, Nathan C. Coghlan, and Dep. Dist. Atty. Leo Englert agreed that the proper punishment for the youth was to be committed to the CYA.

In court during Mickens' sentence was his 17-year-old wife, who is expecting a baby.

Mickens admitted that he held up Mrs. Lucille Massa, wife of the grocery store owner, after he and the young couple had gone hungry for three days.

Menlo Park police reported that while Mrs. Mickens waited in the couple's car, Mickens entered the grocery store, held up Mrs. Massa, and fired a shot which narrowly missed Louis Massa.

SC Employes Report 'Fine Time'

"Everybody had a wonderful time."

That was the consensus of opinion of San Carlos city employes today after Saturday night's first annual Christmas party at the Legion Hall on Bush St.

In addition to dinner and dancing, the employes were entertained by nine vaudeville acts and skits featuring local entertainers. The program was arranged and emceed by Chmn. Newell F. Sharkey of the program committee.

Arrangements for the affair were made by a committee headed by Warren Hayden and including City Clerk Kathleen M. Grant and Lt. George Seeley of the city's police department.

Gardeners Assn. Elects Officers

William Wilke was elected president of the Woodside Gardeners Assn. this week, succeeding Richard Schroeder, who was one of three members named as trustees.

Others elected were James Kerr, first vice president; Remo Marchi, second vice president; Antone Silvera, treasurer; John Dusel, recording secretary; Lamar Johnson, financial secretary; Victor Canavese, historian; Paul Penna, parliamentarian; and William O'Connor, Ernest Pohlhammer and Schroeder, trustees.

Installation of officers is set for Jan. 9 at the Redwood City Woman's Club. Installing officer for the occasion will be Max Leonard, county agricultural commissioner.

County Child Guidance Clinic Plans Open House Today

In order that the public may meet the staff of the San Mateo County Child Guidance and Consultation Service an open house will be held at the clinic in Burlingame today from 4 to 6 p.m.

The guidance and consultation service was organized about two years ago and is controlled by county ordinance. It is used by parents, teachers, clergy and social agencies for referral of emotionally disturbed children.

The Child Guidance Commission has appointed Alec Skolnick, M.D., as director of the clinic and Paul Holmer, M.D., as consulting psychiatrist.

Dr. Skolnick, who resides in San Mateo with his wife and two children, received his degree from Harvard University Medical School and further training at the Menninger Foundation. He is a member of the San Mateo County Medical Society, the board of directors of the Mental Health Society, the American Psychiatric Assn. and the National Committee of Mental Hygiene. For recreation he is fond of tennis and chess.

Dr. Holmer, who makes his home with his wife and two children in Kentfield, is a graduate of the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine. He studied child psychology at the Philadelphia Child Guidance Clinic and was for 10 years director of the Guidance Institute at Reading, Pa. He is a member of the San Francisco Medical Society, the American Psychoanalytic Assn. and a Fellow of the American Psychiatric and the American Orthopsychiatric Assn. His hobbies are gardening and sailing.

Dr. Georgia Bennett is psychologist for the clinic. She lives in Palo Alto with her husband, who is a psychiatrist, and her 6-year-old daughter. Dr. Bennett attended William and Mary College and Johns Hopkins and received her M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Duke University. She took two special courses of training in Rorsbach test under Dr. Bruno Klopfer. Dr. Bennett is an associate member of the American Psychological Assn. and is consulting psychologist at "Hillcrest", San Mateo County Juvenile Home.

Also on the staff of the clinic are two psychiatric social workers, Mrs. Leah Kaplan and Miss Elizabeth Lewton.

Mrs. Kaplan, a graduate of the University of Chicago, received her M.S.S. degree at Smith College of Social Work. She served on the staff at the Family Service, New Haven, Conn., and the Montgomery County Mental Hygiene Clinic in Rockville, Md. For relaxation she studies art.

Miss Lewton, who recently joined the clinic's staff, is a graduate of Stanford University and has served as assistant field director for the American Red Cross at Hammer Field, Fresno, and also was with the Veterans Administration in Newark, N.J. Prior to her arrival on Sept. 1, she was chief psychiatric social worker with the Community Child Guidance Clinic in Portland, Ore. She is fond of tennis and skiing for recreation.

The public is invited to attend the open house at the clinic and to meet the staff members.

Unsuccessful Attempt At Burglary Here

Burglars were apparently unsuccessful in their attempt to break into Demma's Super Market, Willow and Spring St., during the night Saturday, Redwood City police said today.

Police said someone forced an opening in a temporary wooden door at the rear of the market, which is now under construction, Phillip J. Demma, store owner, reported.

Store fixtures for the new building were stored at the rear of the market, police said, but nothing was taken as far as could be determined.

MP Man Reports Skyline Shooting

A Menlo Park man was shot and wounded slightly early Sunday morning during an attempted robbery along Skyline Blvd., the sheriff's office reported.

Norman Ward Monroe, 23, a student who lives at 3823 Fair Oaks Ave., was treated at Community Hospital for a gunshot wound in the left side of his stomach.

The bullet, believed to be of small caliber, did not penetrate the abdominal cavity but lodged in the stomach muscles, doctors reported.

Monroe told Deps. Forrest Mitchell and James White that he was driving toward Half Moon Bay when he saw a man waving his arms near Crystal Springs Lake.

Monroe, believing the man was in trouble, stopped his car. As Monroe stopped, the man opened the door, flashed a gun, and motioned Monroe to move from the driver's seat.

"I'll take the keys," Monroe quoted the man as saying.

Monroe struck at the gun with his left hand, and the gun went off. The man ran away while Monroe was trying to determine how badly he had been wounded.

Monroe then drove back to Belmont, where he told his story to the deputies. He described his assailant as a man about 30 years old, weighing 160 pounds and about 5 feet 9 inches tall. The gunman was wearing a blue and white tweed jacket, Monroe said.

Again May Rezone Linfield Tract

Menlo Park's city council sent the Linfield Oaks Tract back to the city planning commission this week "with the idea of rezoning it back to single-family residences."

In lengthy zoning proceedings last Spring the tract, bounded by Middlefield Rd., San Francisquito Creek, the Southern Pacific right-of-way, and Stanford Village, was zoned to provide a "professional" zone, a commercial zone, and single and multi-unit residences.

Zoning of part of the Menlo Homes Inc. tract as "professional" was a new development in West Coast zoning. Several large insurance companies, a magazine, and other firms had planned to set up their professional offices there.

Underwriters Laboratories Inc. recently informed the city that it has dropped plans to build in the tract, and other projects apparently have stalled.

Councilmen Edward Church and Wallace Brown said that if the proposed professional zone does not go in, they think the tract should be used for single-family residences rather than for apartments.

The council passed a resolution swapping a five-foot walkway strip leading from Santa Cruz Ave. to the city parking plaza for a 20-foot walkway in another location, now owned by Martin Stelling Jr., a San Francisco investor who plans to build two stores on Santa Cruz Ave. between El Camino Real and Chestnut St.

No protests were received at a previous hearing. The trade enables the store buildings to be more conveniently located and to satisfy fire zone requirements, as well as giving the city a larger walkway, officials said.

A petition from Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hale and Mrs. Anna Huss for annexation of a three-acre area at the northwest corner of Elder St. and Santa Cruz Ave. was set for hearing Jan. 10 at 8 p.m.

Annexation under an "uninhabited territory" proceeding would represent an extension of the city limits from Elder St. Councilman George Ford questioned the advisability of "taking in small chunks" and suggested that the area involved be inspected closely.

An ordinance rezoning three lots on Middle Ave. in the Stanford Park section was given final adoption.

City Engineer Edward H. Smith presented sketches and estimates of extension of the city storm sewer system. He proposed two new lines which would control drainage in sections southwest of El Camino Real and one running along Middlefield Rd.

Cost of the southwestern lines would be about $74 for a 10,000 square foot lot, while the Middlefield Rd. line costs would be about $100 for a 19,000 square-foot lot.

City Atty. James T. O'Keefe Jr. made a preliminary report on checks of dog control ordinances of five cities. He said only one deals with leashing. Councilman Edward Church, who suggested that Menlo Park needs an ordinance on the subject at a recent meeting, presented the Palo Alto ordinance for study.

Belmont Planners Urge Alameda Widening Funds

Members of the Belmont Planning Commission this week approved a plan calling for city financial aid to support a preliminary study of widening the Alameda de las Pulgas near the San Carlos-Belmont High School site.

The commission also approved three requests for variances of setback lines in the Belmont Country Club Properties tract.

The planners voted to ask the city to contribute funds for an aerial photograph of the area from the south city limits to Ralston Blvd., according to City Engineer L. G. Brian.

Brian said he would be unable to make any definite statement regarding extent of widening operations until the preliminary study is made.

The immediate aim of the planning commission is establishment of plan lines, Brian stated. Once the preliminary study has been made, a public hearing will be held to let those opposed to the work present arguments.

"We want it made clear," the engineer declared, "that this is not an attempt to ram anything down Belmont property owners' throats. We intend to bring it into the open once we've completed our studies, and everyone interested will have his say."

The planners were to have met with Larry Wise, Belmont resident who is a planning consultant with Hahn & Campbell of Burlingame.

However, Wise's offer to donate his services on the matter fell through when he was called out of town on another matter.

In Wise's stead James Campbell of the firm volunteered his services at last night's meeting.

In other action the commission:

Approved an application from Joe Voto to change setback lines on lots 1, 2 and 3 in block 36, Belmont Country Club Properties, from 25 to 15 feet.

Approved an application from Tim O'Brien to vary a 25-foot setback line to 15 feet on lot 14, block 93 in the same tract.

Approved a request from P. O. Lind, who asked that setback line on lot 18, block 27, Belmont Country Club Properties, from 5 feet to 3 feet. The latter will permit construction of a garage, Lind's request said.

All three requests must now be approved by the city council, since the commission merely makes recommendations.

Rev. James Keller Explains Christopher Movement

Some 250 people gathered at the College of Notre Dame Hall on the Belmont campus Friday evening to hear the Rev. Father James Keller of the Society of Mary Knoll and founder of the Christopher Movement, speak. The talk was sponsored by the Notre Dame Music Assn.

The Christopher Movement, Father Keller explained, is founded on the idea that "You Can Change the World." More than 200,000 people in the United States have joined the movement which has no dues and no subscriptions. "We feel if we secure the doers, God will supply the donors," Father Keller said.

He continued, "The woods are full of good people, the difficulty is in getting them out." He added that in his estimation less than 1 per cent of humanity has caused most of the world's recent troubles, and this is due to the lack of activity of the other 99 per cent of humanity who are "good" but do nothing.

This minority group, driven by hatred, becomes dispersers of evil, striving to reach the many. It gets into fields which touch the lives of people the world over, such as education, government, trade unions, writing and other creative fields. To combat this, Father Keller said, we need positive constructive action by many in these same fields.

"It is better to light one candle than to curse the darkness," he added.

The Christopher Movement is for all peoples and Father Keller said that pamphlets on it may be obtained by writing the headquarters at 18 East 48th St., New York, N.Y.

At the conclusion of his talk, Father Keller, who is also the author of two best selling books, "You Can Change the World" and "Three Minutes a Day," told of the first picture just completed in Hollywood about the Christopher Movement. He said it is the first of 30 planned films on the subject. He added that the movement is also starting a group of orientation schools throughout the country to guide people and to show them how to get into the work of the Christopher Movement. Seven schools already have been founded.

Father Keller was introduced by the Rev. John Zoff, professor of English at Serra High School.

Council Studies Four Amendments

Four amendments to the proposed peddlers license were presented to the city council for consideration at its study session Monday night by City Atty. Cuthbert B. Currie.

Several protests were recorded by those opposing the ordinance when it was first considered by the council.

The amendments presented before the council's study session last night were:

A change in the age limit of the ordinance so that it would apply only to those 18 years of age and older.

That the medical examination shall be optional with the chief of police instead of mandatory.

That identification permits be issued for a period of one year instead of 90 days as now specified in the proposed ordinance.

An added provision that peddling and soliciting can be done after 6 p.m. providing the peddler or solicitor has made an appointment with the resident beforehand also was discussed.

Councilmen informally decided that the fingerprinting provision of the ordinance should be mandatory. There had been some opposition to the proposal that all peddlers and solicitors be fingerprinted before they could be issued a license.

Final action on the proposed ordinance, however, will have to be taken at a regular meeting of the city council.

W. A. Keller Hurt In SC Car Crash

William A. Keller, 65, of 123 Poplar St., Redwood City, was injured slightly last week when his car veered off El Camino Real near Brittan Ave., San Carlos, landing in a ditch.

Keller was given emergency treatment by a county ambulance crew and released. He was not cited by investigating San Carlos officers.

Keller told police that he swerved to avoid a collision with an on-coming auto at 3:10 a.m. His car traveled 55 feet in an easterly direction before coming to rest in the ditch 36 feet north of the Brittan Ave. crossing.

The car was heavily damaged, police reported.

3 RC Officers Promoted To Sergeant

Three Redwood City police officers were promoted to the post of sergeant following successful completion of competitive examinations, Chief of Police Stanley Wood has announced.

The new sergeants are Ted Moudakas, Robert F. West and Earl Whitmore. The officers were selected from a group of five policemen who took the examinations for the post.

Moudakas is a Sequoia High School graduate and has been on the force for seven years. He is a native of Vallejo, is married and lives at 533 Cleveland St.

He has spent most of the time on the force doing police investigation work and is a graduate of the Federal Bureau of Investigation's special training school for police officers.

West has been on the force since 1941, was born in Redwood City, is a Sequoia High School graduate and attended police officers' training school at San Mateo Junior College.

He has had training as both a patrolman and a motorcycle officer. He and his wife live at 217 Madison Ave.

Whitmore was born in Illinois but graduated from Sequoia High School and has spent most of his life in Redwood City. After graduating from Sequoia he attended Iowa State Teachers College. He has spent eight years on the force as a patrolman.

During the war, Sergeant Whitmore was an investigator in the United States Army Air Force. He is a graduate of the FBI's fingerprint police and gunnery schools.

He is married, lives at 1622 Hampton Ave., and is the father of three daughters.

In announcing the appointments, Chief Wood said the new sergeants would have supervision of the patrol beats within the department.

Nurse Discusses Child's Problems For Parents

Jane Paynter, R.N., supervising psychiatric nurse at the Langley Porter Clinic, discussed children's problems recently at the second of the monthly lecture series, sponsored by the Homeview Recreation Assn. of Belmont.

Miss Paynter explained that children reflect the feelings of a mother or mother-substitute. Children's neuroses are caused by parents trying to cover their own feelings, which results in insecurity and tension in children. She added that responsibility will cause most trouble makers to become leaders.

Dr. John Ryan, child psychology consultant at the Berkeley Mental Hygiene Clinic, is slated for the January meeting and Dr. David Sears, Belmont psychiatrist, will speak in February.

Mosquitoes May Be Put on the Run if Two Abatement Districts in This Area Are Consolidated

Peninsulans will slap at fewer mosquitoes in the future if two mosquito abatement districts are consolidated and new territories annexed to provide wider control.

This is the promise of a consolidation proposal advanced in a state survey report by the Department of Public Health made public today.

The two districts, the Pulgas Mosquito Abatement Dist. in the South County and the Three Cities Mosquito Abatement Dist., already have carried out one other major recommendation.

Recently they announced a decision to employ jointly an entomologist to direct the war against mosquitoes in both areas.

But if that war is to be successful, according to the state report, consolidation also is necessary.

The Three Cities district covers San Mateo, Burlingame, Hillsborough, Millbrae, Lomita Park and San Francisco Airport. The Pulgas district takes in a slice of South San Mateo, Belmont, San Carlos, Redwood City, Atherton, Menlo Park and county territory to the Santa Clara County line. Both districts reach from Skyline Blvd. to the bay.

Under the state proposal South San Francisco and San Bruno would be added to a district consolidating the present two. A strip of territory west of Skyline Blvd. from three to four miles wide would be annexed.

Other recommendations in the report include:

1. Permanent anti-mosquito measures under the guidance of a part-time consultant engineer.
2. Integration of present staffs and facilities under the new consolidated district.
3. Establishment of permanent headquarters including office facilities, a laboratory, garage and storage space, with substations as necessary.
4. Establishment of close working relationships with other mosquito abatement districts and state agencies.

The report declares that "mosquito control problems of the Peninsula have been amplified by the tremendous increase in population, industrial development and the extension of residential areas into the hills and former rural areas.

Control measures already adopted have reduced the problem since early days. In 1904 a professor was able to fill a pint measure with mosquitoes by sweeping a net through the air for five minutes in Burlingame. Workmen wore netting for protection.

In 1912 "mosquitoes were so thick that life was unbearable. The Peninsula Hotel, a famous resort located in San Mateo, was closed in mid-season."

But where drainage, mass spraying and other measures brought relief from the mosquitoes breeding in swamps, control is complicated today because the breeding places are scattered through vast new residential areas.

The state report prescribes the use of the most modern methods.

The report was prepared by John R. Walker and Richard F. Peters, vector control specialists of the division of environmental sanitation of the State Dept. of Public Health.

It has been studied by board members of the two districts, but they have agreed so far only on one major recommendation—the employment of an entomologist.

'Tiny' Small Heads SM Labor Council

Thomas A. (Tiny) Small of San Mateo, head of the AFL Bartenders and Culinary Workers Local 340, will be the 1950 president of the Central Labor Council of San Mateo County.

The balloting will be held next Monday night, but Small's election was certain, there being no one nominated in opposition. He will succeed Edward J. Carrigan, whose appointment as U. S. marshal for Northern California is awaiting senate confirmation.

Other council officers who were unopposed when nominations closed Monday night were Charles Preston, vice president; Carl E. Cohenour, recording secretary; Mrs. Ruth Bradley, financial secretary-treasurer, and Robert Wood, warden.

Small also was reelected to his secretary-treasurer post in the bartenders' union Monday night.

Other officers reelected were Earl D. McLaughlin, president; James D. Bowman, vice president; Anthony (Tony) Schurba and L. C. (Scotty) Cameron, business agents; Fred V. Dew, Jack Mitchell and Al Hobart, executive board; Joseph C. Biscar, Margaret Prestridge and William Koop, board of trustees; Carl Schultze, Schurba and Small, labor council delegates, and Thomas Normanly, chaplain.

Bridgo Case Ends In $400 Fines

The celebrated bridgo-bingo case came to an end in county justice court at South San Francisco yesterday when five defendants withdrew their motion for a new trial and had sentence pronounced.

In absentia, but acting through their attorney, John Golden, the defendants were each fined $400 or given the alternative of serving 80 days in the county jail. Golden secured a five-day stay of execution in order to post the fines.

The five, Sam Abrahams, Raymond Reynolds, Stanley Golas, Leonard Seiff and John Herlihy, were arrested in two raids on their bridgo-bingo parlor in Bayshore City early in September. At their first trial a jury failed to reach agreement. Tried a second time, they were adjudged guilty.

Their defense was that bridgo-bingo was a game of skill, not one of chance and lottery.

Sequoians Sing In Yule Radio Fete

The third period choral group of Sequoia High School will sing a group of Christmas carols tomorrow afternoon, 1 o'clock, over Station KIBE, Palo Alto. Harold Wheatley directs the group.

The Sequoia Broadcasters, high schol radio club, is presenting the program and Louise Martin will be the announcer.

Ten numbers will be sung, including "Joy to the World", "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear", "Bring a Torch, Jeannette, Isabella", "Break Forth, Oh Beautious, Heavenly Light", "The Bell", "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem", "O Come All Ye Faithful", "The First Noel", "Silent Night" and "Now the Day is Over".

Mail Yule Cards Now: O'Connell

Start mailing your Christmas cards, Postmaster R. E. O'Connell Jr. told local residents today.

Greetings for out-of-state should be in the collection boxes today, he said. Cards for local delivery should be mailed at least the Thursday before Christmas.

Extensive preparations have been made to handle the expected record flood of Yuletide mail. But the postmaster warned procrastinators that extended bad weather could snarl deliveries and leave a mountain of undelivered Christmas cheer on Christmas Eve.

"It's better for your lighthearted Christmas card to arrive a few days early," he counselled, "than for it to limp in the day after Christmas."

The postmaster warned that Christmas cards mailed with 1½ cent stamps are being returned stamped "Insufficient Postage." The rate for unsealed third class mail is now 2 cents.

Cards sent third class may not be forwarded or returned, without payment of additional postage. The postmaster stated that large numbers of 1949 Christmas cards are liable to end up in the dead letter office due to incomplete or incorrect addresses.

If you're not sure of the address, a 3 cent stamp entitles your Christmas greeting to first class postal service. The card will be forwarded from one address to another, or if the envelope bears your return address, the card will be returned to you if the addressee can't be located, without additional charge for postage.

T. Kevin Mallen Appointed General Manager of SC Firm

T. KEVIN MALLEN

T. Kevin Mallen, of 1569 Sixth Ave., Belmont, has just been named vice president and general manager of the Ampex Electric Corp. in San Carlos. The Ampex company, a local industry, has achieved national acclaim for magnetic tape sound recording equipment which is now used widely by all major radio networks.

Following 12 years in the Far East with English and American business equipment concerns in Malaya, Siam and Manila, Mallen returned to the United States shortly before Pearl Harbor. With the outbreak of the war, he entered G-2 with the U. S. Army and was assigned with the War Department general staff in Washington until 1944. At that time he was assigned and served until war's end, with an air commando group in the CBI Theater.

In December, 1945, he was associated with International Business Machines Corp. as general manager in charge of operations from Hawaii to India. He resigned this post in July, 1949, to return to California and became vice president of the Ampex corporation a month later.

Man Surrenders On Check Charge

Belmont police were happily puzzled Tuesday over the conduct of a 50-year-old Marysville civil engineer who surrendered himself at the station on charges of writing a bad check more than two months ago.

Held in the county jail on the charge was Carlyle J. Halbert, who was accused by Chester Bregy, manager of Harrington's in Belmont.

According to the complaint, Halbert passed a check for $50 in the Belmont tavern last Oct. 8. Efforts by Marysville police to locate him had failed, Belmont officers reported.

This week, however, he turned himself in and was promptly booked at the county jail. Today he was still there, having failed to produce $250 cash bail required by Police Judge Walter Truce.

Girl, 2, Falls On Stick, Hurt

Jewell Fay Hedges, 2-year-old daughter of Fred Hedges, 365 Old County Rd., San Carlos, was treated at Community Hospital Tuesday for an injury suffered when she fell on a stick at her home.

The little girl was taken by county ambulance after her mother called police.

San Carlos police reported she was bleeding at the mouth and "turning black" when they arrived shortly after 1:30 p.m. Apparently the girl was playing at her home when she fell on the stick.

The girl was released after treatment.

Forcier suffered extensive facial injuries, including loss of 12 teeth and a broken jaw, on March 4, when his motorcycle was involved in a collision with a car driven by Taylor. The accident occurred on University Ave., between Donohoe and Bell Sts., East Palo Alto.

ONE MAN HURT — Traffic was tied up for a half an hour at the intersection of Middlefield Rd. and Maple St. Monday and one man was injured when the panel truck above was hit by a cement truck. Raymond Campos, 26, San Francisco, driver of the panel truck, was taken to Community Hospital for emergency treatment and then released. Hospital attendents said he suffered some possible internal injuries but was not seriously hurt. He is being given further treatment by his own physician. At right, Campos is being readied by ambulance drivers for his trip to the hospital while Officer Dana Morgan assists. The cement truck was going north through the intersection when it collided with Campos' vehicle almost in the middle of the intersection, police said. Another vehicle, parked near the intersection, also was damaged in the collision.

Helicopters' amazing ability is working for Pacific Telephone in some places today...helping stop trouble.

How a new sky patrol protects your calls

1. You really get a bird's-eye view from a hovering 'copter. And it's proving a big help in checking our Long Distance routes... Air patrols watch for leaning poles, soil erosion, settling earth... anything that might cause future trouble. They do it fast, too. In one test, a crew recently checked 276 miles of buried cable route in nine hours; it would have taken about six days by land.

2. On-the-spot delivery of repairmen and materials is another use of the flexible helicopter. Since it can literally drop on a blanket, it comes in handy reaching isolated spots... or when snow or floods make roads hard to travel. Helicopter patrol is another example of how we keep looking ahead for the progressive developments that help keep your service always ready to work for you.

3. Keeping ahead of trouble helps keep your service valuable. Today it's more valuable than ever... the many new telephones that have been rushed into service make it possible for you to call more of the people you want to call. More can call you. And your telephone is still a bargain in these days of higher costs. After all, a few pennies buy a call.

Your telephone is one of today's best bargains

Orpheon Concert Pleases Large Audience

BY VIRGINIA GRIZZLE AND MARGARET DAVIS

Before a well-filled auditorium, the Orpheon Male Chorus presented its semi-annual concert Friday evening in the auditorium of Burlingame High School to a very appreciative audience.

The 50 male voices blended perfectly in a series of carefully chosen selections including a group of Christmas numbers and Negro spirituals. Accompanied by Arthur Schwarzman, Paul Walti, popular Bay Area tenor, was outstanding, especially in the clearness of tone and the distinctness with which he sang.

Presented for the first time on the concert stage was Mr. Walti's number, "Song of Orpheus," which has been featured in the "Hi Jinks" at the Bohemian Grove in Monte Rio. Mr. Walti was very generous with encores, appearing again after each series he sang. The audience was particularly pleased with two Irish numbers, "A Little Bit of Heaven" and "Galway Bay".

Climaxing the evening was the beautiful and well-known "Cantique de Noel" as arranged by J. C. Fyfe, who was prominent in musical circles on the Peninsula. Mr. Walti sang the solo part with the chorus joining in to make this a thrilling and outstanding number with which to end the program.

Mrs. Olive Golden, director, and the members of the Orpheon Chorus are to be congratulated on their very fine musical contribution to the community.

Under the sponsorship of the Burlingame-San Mateo-Hillsborough Branch of the American Assn. of University Women, the concert's proceeds will go to augment its scholarship fund.

According to Palo Alto police, Mrs. Herrick wrote a farewell note to her son before taking an overdose of a sedative.

County Fiesta Set For Next Sept. 8-12

Dates for the San Mateo County Fiesta have been set for Sept. 8 to 12 next year, the Western Fairs Assn. announced today.

The five-day show, which is scheduled tentatively for this time at the Fiesta Bldg. in San Mateo, would be of shorter duration than the nine and 10-day shows presented during the past two years.

The fair association reported that the State Fair would be held at Sacramento, Aug. 31 to Sept. 10.

Three Bookies Fined $1000, $5000 Ordered Returned

The arrests of three San Bruno men for bookmaking has cost them one-sixth of the money seized by officers in the raid on Oct. 4.

Superior Judge Aylett R. Cotton late Monday fined Joseph Sammut Jr., 32, and two of his employes a total of $1000 after the men pleaded guilty to the felony bookmaking charges.

At the same time, at the request of John K. Weeks, attorney representing the bookie trio, the judge ordered the release by officers of the $6000 seized during the raid.

Weeks asked that the $1000 in fines be deducted from the money seized, and the rest returned to the men.

The judge fined Samut's employes, Otho M. Lites, 27, and Charlie P. Grech, 21, $250 each, and placed them on probation for six months.

Since Sammut, known as "Artichoke Joe Junior," was the leader of the trio, his fine and probation term were double the amount imposed on the others.

State Dept. of Justice agents raided Sammut's establishment, Joe's Poolroom, in San Bruno and seized the men and the bookmaking paraphernalia.

The officers also reported that at the time of the arrest extensive telephone installation work was under way in the rear of the establishment.

Whenever San Bruno police officers checked the pool hall, which they said they did several times daily, a lookout would signal the officer's approach, the police department reported.

Polio Cases Decline Sharply in State

Polio cases declined sharply during the past week in California, according to Dr. Wilton Halverson, director of the State Dept. of Public Health.

State Hears Protestants In SC Liquor License Study

Question of desirability of an off-sale liquor store within 60 feet of a church building used as a meeting place for groups including Alcoholics Anonymous was in the lap of the state today.

The question was submitted to Referee E. A. McDonald of the State Board of Equalization following a hearing which lasted an hour and 40 minutes.

The dispute arose after Sherry Liquor Stores applied to the state for an off-sale license at 864 Laurel St., San Carlos. The city council at a meeting Nov. 9 went on record in opposition to the license.

Members of the Community Church, located directly west of the proposed store, signed and sent to the State Board of Equalization a petition of protest.

At this week's hearing the Rev. Weldon Batty, pastor of the Community Church, said the old church building lies only a little more than 50 feet from Sherry's property.

Because of the large increase in members and constituents, he said, the church's old building is in use "every day of the week" by some organization.

The Rev. Mr. Batty listed the organizations which have use of the old building, which also serves as headquarters for the superintendent of religious education.

In addition to Alcoholics Anonymous, he said, the Boy Scouts, YMCA, Girl Scouts, Brownies, Cub Scouts, high school and college-age youths, and other groups meet in the old building.

The building has a door which faces property on which the proposed liquor store is located, the pastor stated.

When questioned by Atty. Seibert L. Sefton representing Sherry's, the Rev. Mr. Batty said his church had taken "no official stand," on the merits of intoxicants.

He declared that he personally was opposed to use of alcoholic beverages. He said liquor was a form of escape. The church attempts to teach its followers to face life, he said, rather than seek a means of escape.

Others testifying at the hearing were Anthony Podesta, president of the liquor store chain; Atty. John L. Waldier, chairman of the church's board of trustees, and John C. Corbett of the local office of the state board.

Referee McDonald said he would submit a recommendation to the state board this week. A decision may be reached by tomorrow, he said.

Should the board reject his opinion, McDonald declared, its members are authorized to write one of their own.

Unless action is taken this week, no decision will be announced until the board's next meeting Jan. 20, he stated.

Menlo Park Council Planning Rental Housing Survey

Menlo Park's City Council will make a rental housing survey of its own to determine whether a need for controls still exists, Mayor Charles P. Burgess announced this week.

The council also received an opinion from the city attorney that no councilman should disqualify himself from the decision on proposed rent decontrol because of his status as a realtor, landlord, renter or veteran.

"In informal discussion," the mayor said, "the council has decided that the validity of surveys made by both sides is under serious question. The only sound way the council can proceed is to make a survey of its own."

Burgess referred to a survey used by the Menlo Park Fair Rent Committee in urging proposed decontrol at a hearing Nov. 29, and to the office of the housing expediter's survey, on which the Veterans' Civic Committee built its case for continued controls.

Both surveys were strongly criticized at the decontrol hearing.

City Mgr. Cecil Longson has informed the council, Burgess said, that the city will not have personnel available for the job until after the first of the year.

The council also asked City Atty. James T. O'Keefe Jr. for an opinion on the Veterans' Civic Committee's suggestion that any councilman having a "personal financial interest" in rent decontrol disqualify himself in future decisions concerning it.

The request referred specifically to "one member of the city council who is a member of the local realty board." (Councilman Wallace H. Brown is a member of the Menlo-Atherton Board of Realtors.)

Dr. O'Neill Fails to Attend Study Meet to Air Charges

Dr. A. E. O'Neill, who last week turned in his resignation as a personnel board member, failed to appear at the city council's study meeting Monday night after he had been issued an invitation by City Clerk Ralph Dodge to do so.

At last week's council meeting, Dr. O'Neill, member of the personnel board, had submitted his resignation to the council but the group tabled the matter until they could hear from Dr. O'Neill in person.

Dodge was directed to write a letter to the retired dentist with an invitation to appear before the council last night to explain his criticism of City Mgr. E. A. Rolison and his administrative assistant, Richard Miller.

Both Rolison and Miller were present at the meeting last night.

The council study group did not discuss Dr. O'Neill's resignation but indicated action would be taken on the matter at the next meeting.

Fleming Bound To Superior Court

Clifford E. Fleming, 37, a San Carlos sheet metal worker, was held to answer in superior court on a fourth count of lewd and lascivious conduct this week.

Fleming, charged by parents of two small San Carlos girls with immoral acts, appeared before Police Judge Rupert C. Johnson today to face the second of his accusers.

The second girl was unable to appear at the first phase of the preliminary because of illness last Tuesday. She charged him with one count at today's preliminary.

Following today's hearing he was remanded to custody of the sheriff's office. Bail of $1000 cash or $2000 surety bond was continued by Judge Johnson.

Burlingame Butcher's Wife Gets Divorce

Mrs. Elsie Virginia Danz, wife of Burlingame butcher Henry J. Danz, was granted an interlocutory divorce decree by Superior Judge Aylett R. Cotton late Monday.

Grounds for the divorce were extreme cruelty, and a battery charge filed against Danz by his wife is pending in Burlingame police court.

Judge Cotton awarded Mrs. Danz the car owned jointly by the couple, and also allowed her to return to use of her maiden name, Elsie Virginia Bach.

Danz and his father, meat packer Ralph Danz, recently were involved in a brawl in which two policemen were injured.

Another Store Burglarized in SC

San Carlos police Tuesday reported the second appliance store burglary within five days after raiders had entered Harry's Furniture Store, 534 Laurel St., and made off with a table model television set.

The burglary took place sometime between 7 p.m. Sunday and 9:30 a.m. Monday, according to the store's owner, Harry Kirkorian.

Entry was gained by employing a one-inch wide steel bar on the front door latch, officers said. No other television sets were taken, though there were several higher-priced sets in the shop.

The set taken was valued at $283.95, Kirkorian stated. Two floor lamps were knocked over and taken, he said, and furniture was marred by the intruders.

The burglars also ripped out antenna wiring and damaged the front door in getting in, according to Kirkorian.

Last Friday the Electric House store at 781 Laurel St., was also looted. Burglars took appliances estimated at $3500, including nine TV sets.
